Hickory Nut

LINDA, TO A VERY NICE, SWEET GIRL THAT I HAD THE PLEASURE OF MEETING THIS YEAR. IT ALL STARTED IN LIT CRIT CLASS ABOUT 19 WEEKS AGO AND NOW WE SHARE A VERY INTERESTING FEATURE WRITING CLASS THAT I KNOW I'LL NEVER FORGET (ALTHOUGH YOU'LL PROBABLY WANT TO.) TOO BAD THAT YOU'RE BECOMING A SENIOR BECAUSE I WOULD HAVE REALLY LIKED TO BECOME BEHIND FRIENDS WITH YOU. TAKE CARE AND GOOD LUCK IN ALL YOU CARE TO DO.

ALEX JANDOW

Linda.
Hey Baby, Well Well
what do you say to a bar-out groovy chick likes you, its been nice knowing you. we've had some good laughs together
she is a good life you, your horse live a good new love (what's his name)
& your Dupont Plaza Miami
If you ever in Florida
see me Baby Don't forget

Linda -
so a really, nice
pretty and very sweet girl. It's been fun
knowing all you do.
Best of luck in touch after grad.
Keep in love, luck &
happiness,

Linda:

What can I say to one of my best buddies? How long? 8th grade? - went by fast. I could never forget all the good times and memories we have shared in the past.
I hate to say that word... past - it sounds so sad. There is not enough room in this entire book to say all the crazy, stupid & DANGEROUS things we have done together. Our times have not ended yet, they have only just begun!
We have Florida to look forward to,
college, new boyfriends and new adventures to meet. (S.K. GREGG)
Let's just never forget each other. ok? Maybe we should forget some of those things we used to do - our dads & guys would almost kill us! (There is no cause for alarm Greg!) Take care of yourself,
Love,
MaryBeth

Variety

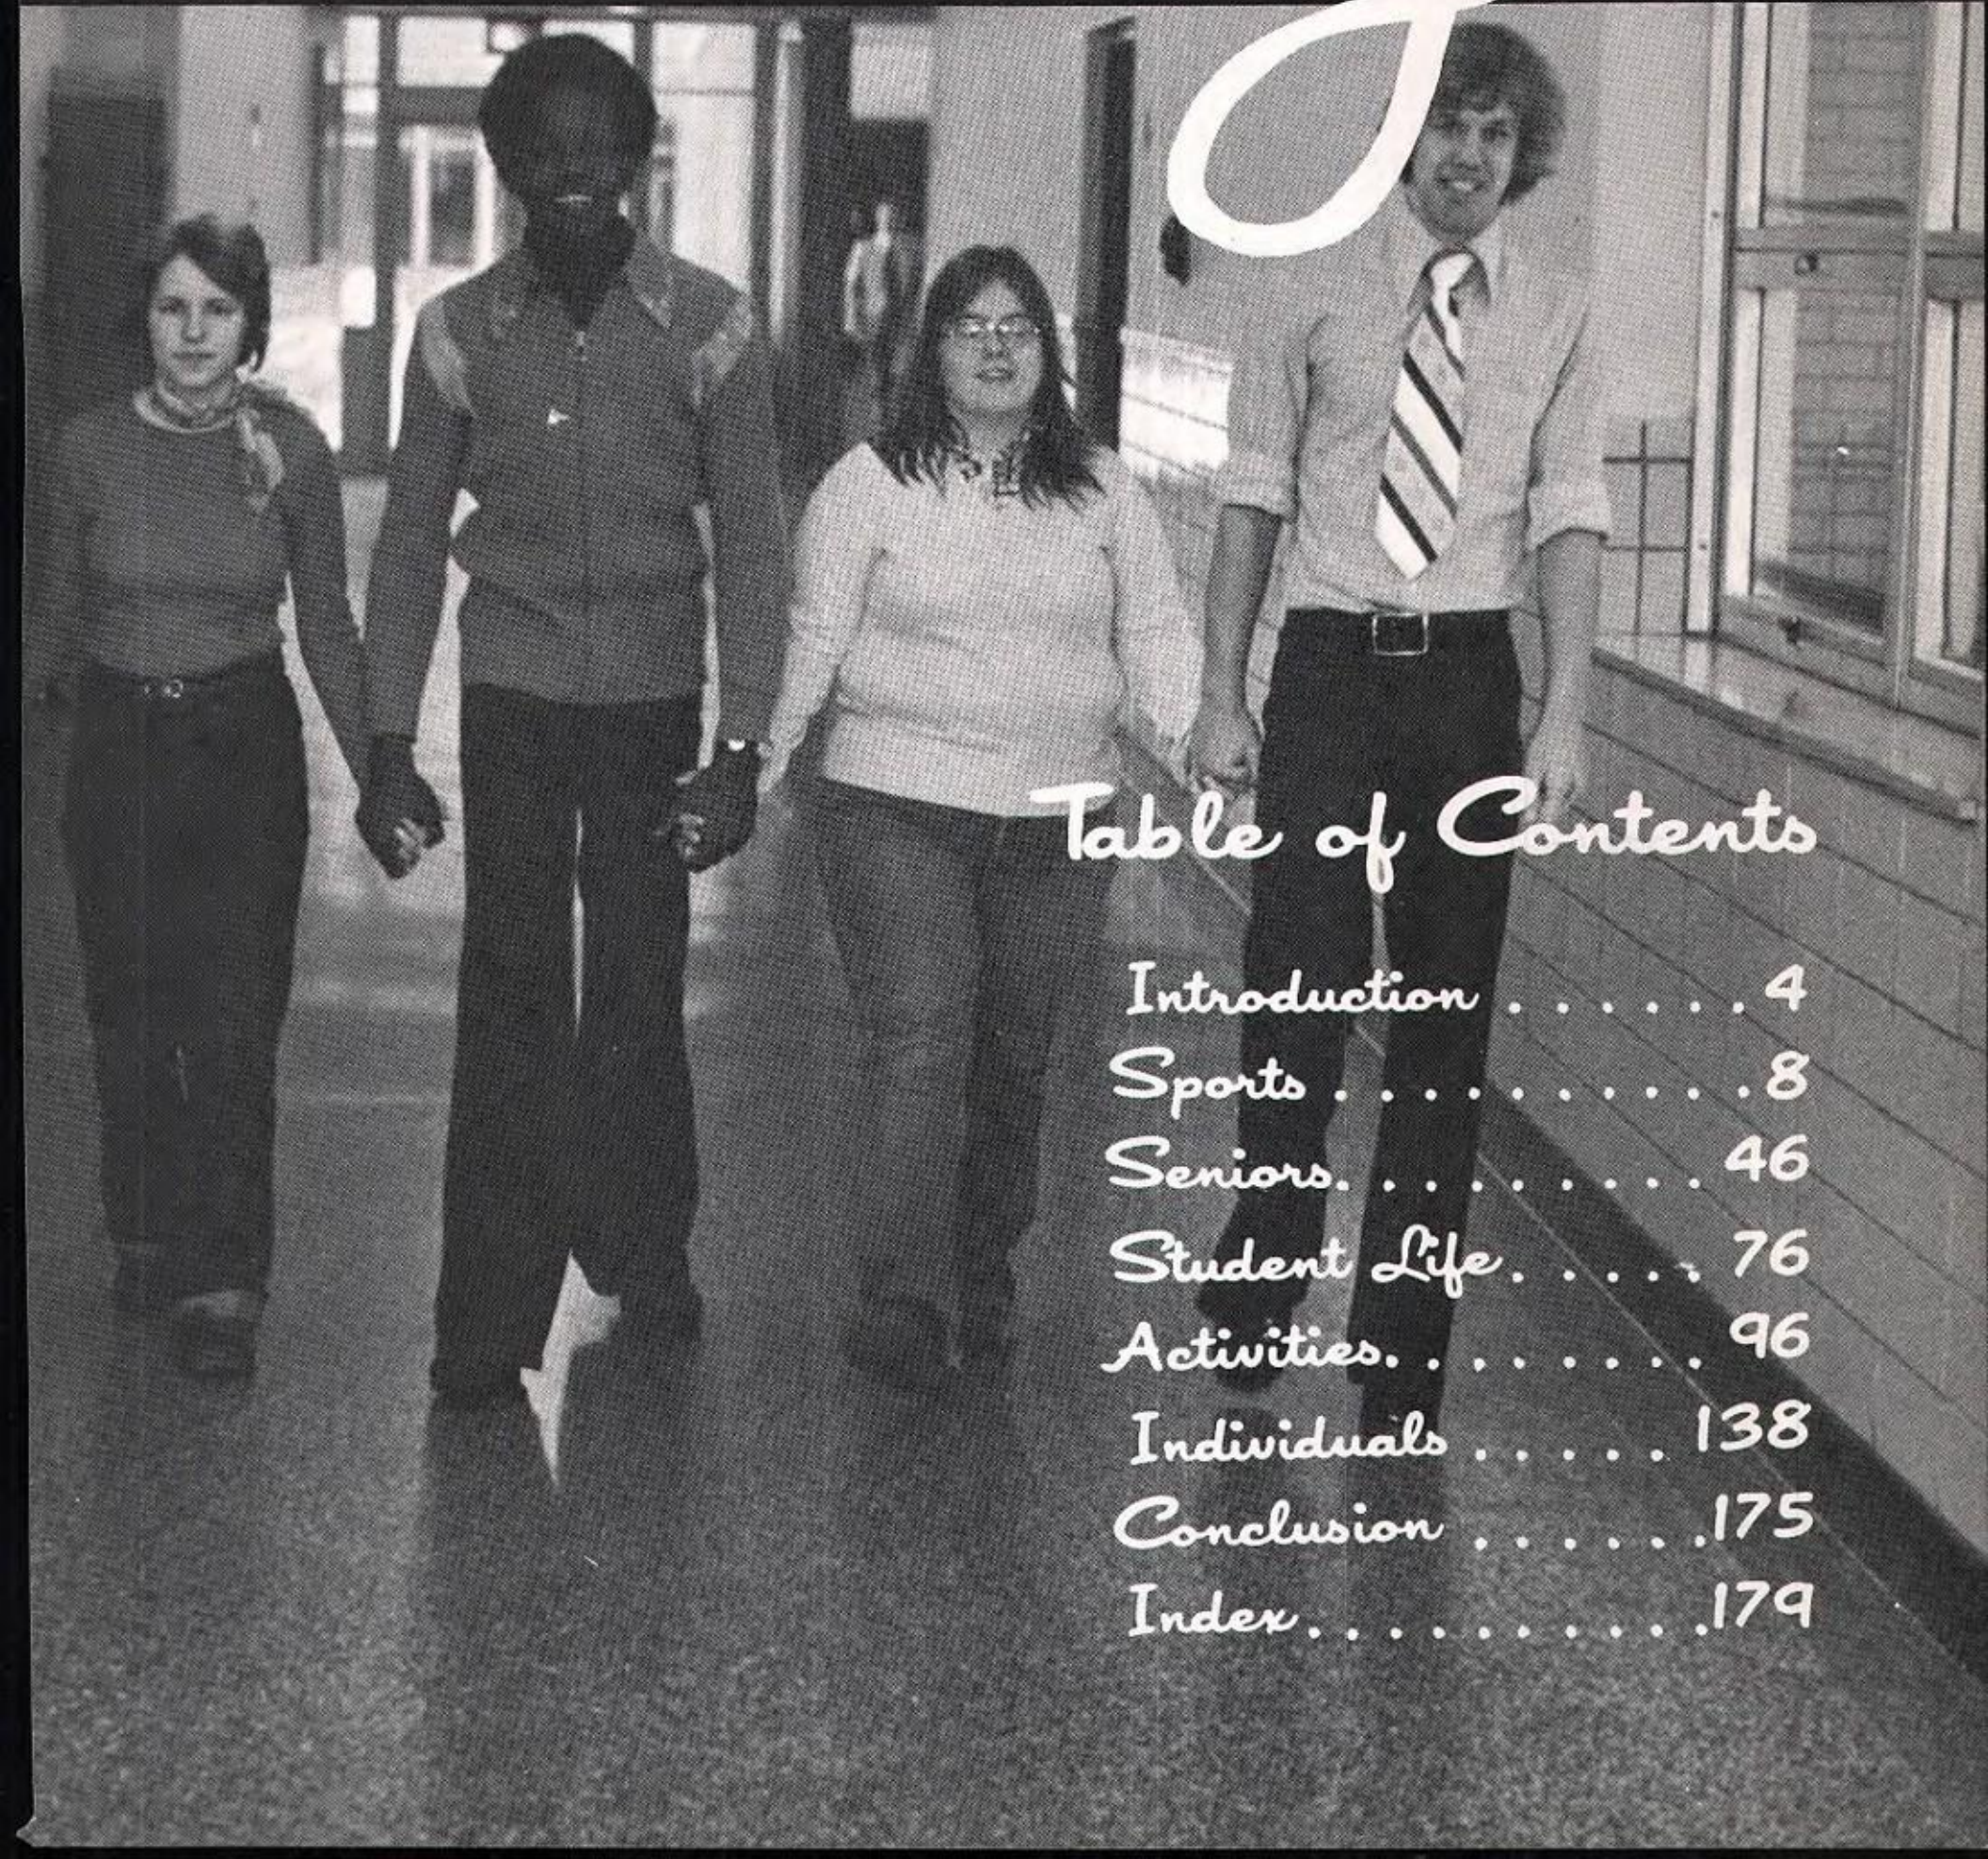

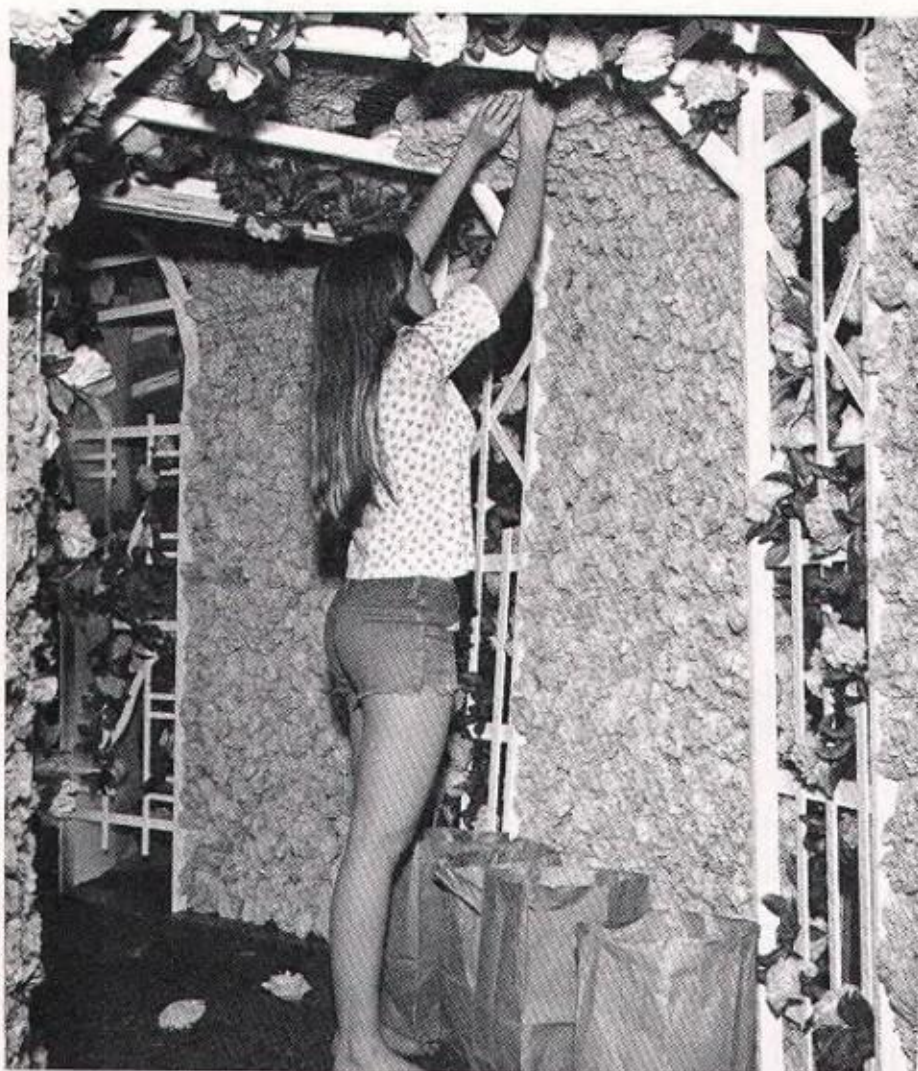

A black and white photograph of four students walking in a school hallway. From left to right: a girl in a dark sweater and pants, a boy in a dark jacket and pants, a girl in a light sweater and pants, and a boy in a light shirt, striped tie, and dark pants. They are all smiling and looking towards the camera. The hallway has windows on the right and doors on the left.

In Interests...

With approximately 1100 students in the school how many interests do you think we'll find? Would you believe 1100 and 1? For the first time this week our homeroom was quiet while the announcements were on and I actually heard them. "There will be an organizational meeting for ski club." Gee, that's a new one. That must be the tenth club this year. They offer opportunities to explore almost every interest. "There will be a poetry reading Friday in the auditorium. All those interested please sign up in Mr. Moore's office. It does sound boring, but it might be better than class. I don't know where they come up with some of these assemblies. "... wrestling is mandatory." What? What? Did someone hear that? Well, it won't be the first meeting I've missed.

R-r-r-ing. Here is another day to challenge my interests.

Sheri Somich and Mike Caruso find an interest in poinsettias.

A Pub study hall allows time for varied interests—from yearbook to the latest dirty joke.

John Apa and Julie Ghiates enjoy spending a moment alone.

In Education...

It's about time I got that English course I've been waiting for. Yes, I know they offer about 30 different courses to pick from but you'd be surprised how many you don't like, especially when you hate English in general.

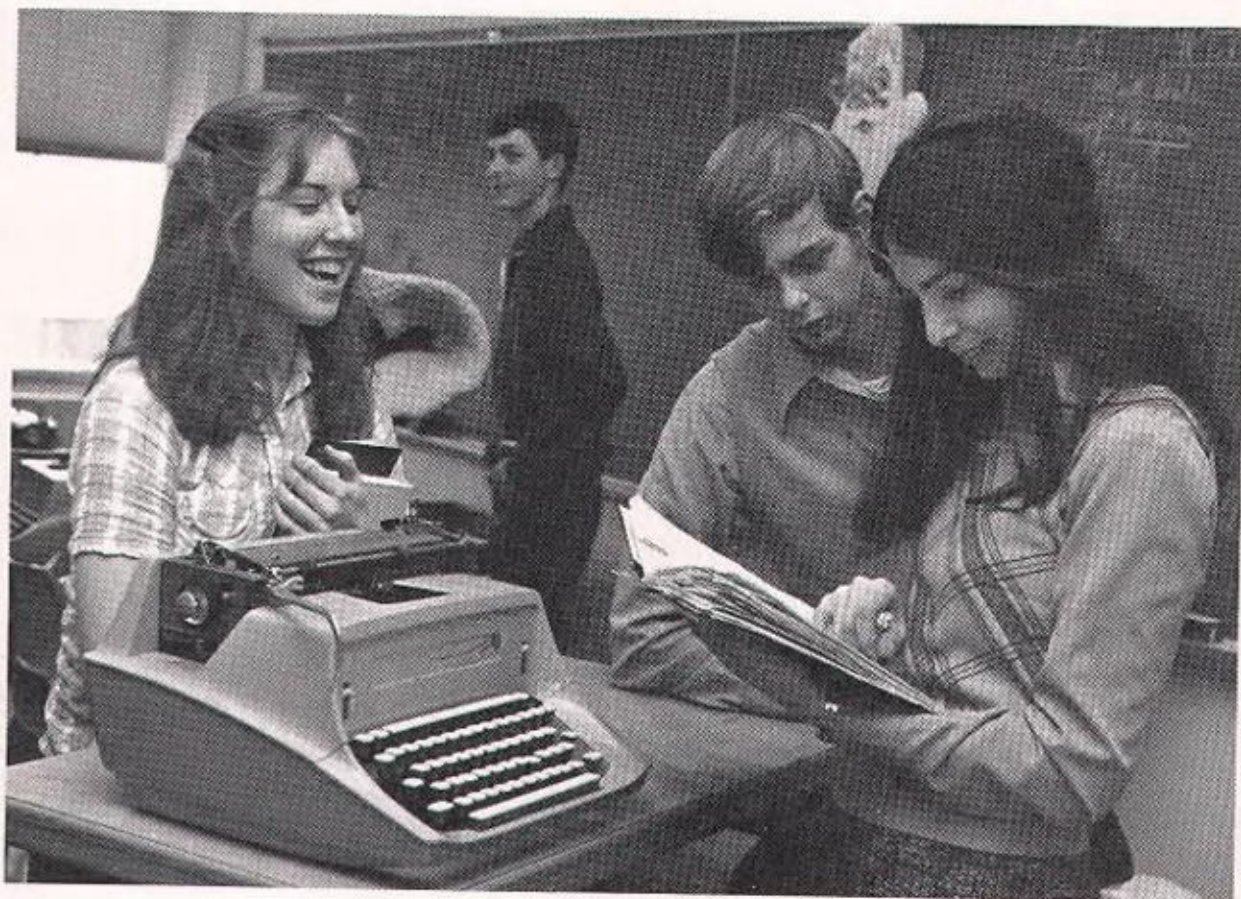

Then there's social studies. Everyone wants Humanities just so they can go on the field trips. But I've gotten more out of my course this 12 weeks than any field trip could offer. Let's see, what are they offering third period next term—Communism, and Minorities. Okay, what else?

Math? Why not take geometry now that I've gotten my calculator. At least my answers will be a little more accurate. And science? This is beginning to get interesting. Ich-Ich-Ich-how do you pronounce that course? Ichthyology! I think I'll like that elective.

Is that all that's required besides gym? I'm really interested in the new language electives. There's so much being offered. It sounds like I'm going to have quite a year.

Mr. Walcott takes time out of class to chat with Chuck Boyd and Fred Smith.

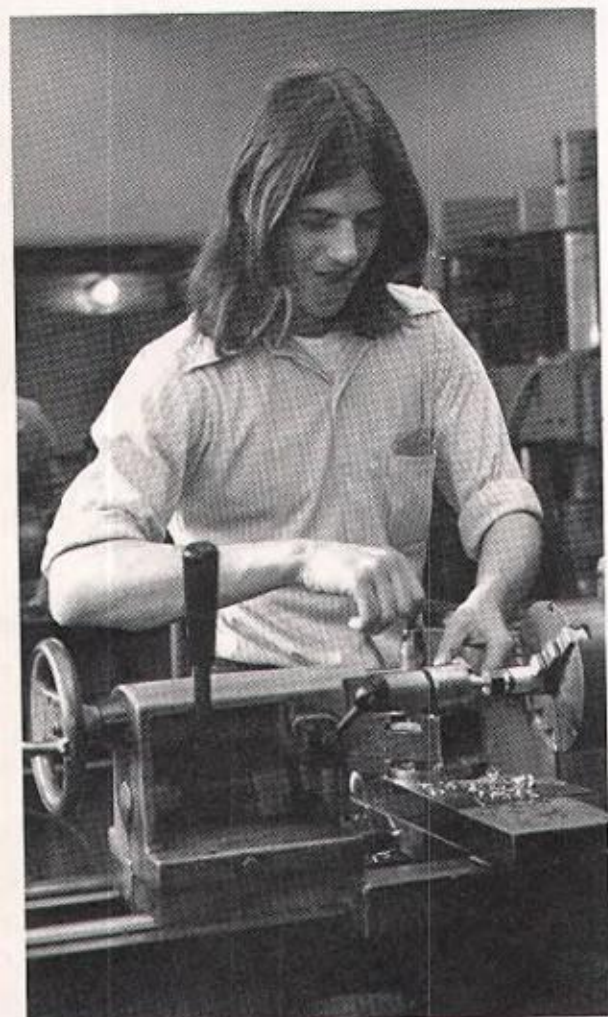

Mrs. Krysieck informs Linda Taylor and Ken Lapikas of their typing grades.

Lori Leonard puts her knitting talent to use whenever she finds the extra time.

"Freaks," "Jocks," "Puters," and "the silent minority;" we have them in all sizes, shapes, and colors. But with all these labels the people at HHS are a unique bunch. They represent hard work, pride and sometimes even scandals. Without their individuality the educational system wouldn't work and the routine of the day would be boring. This makes living with variety a pleasure.

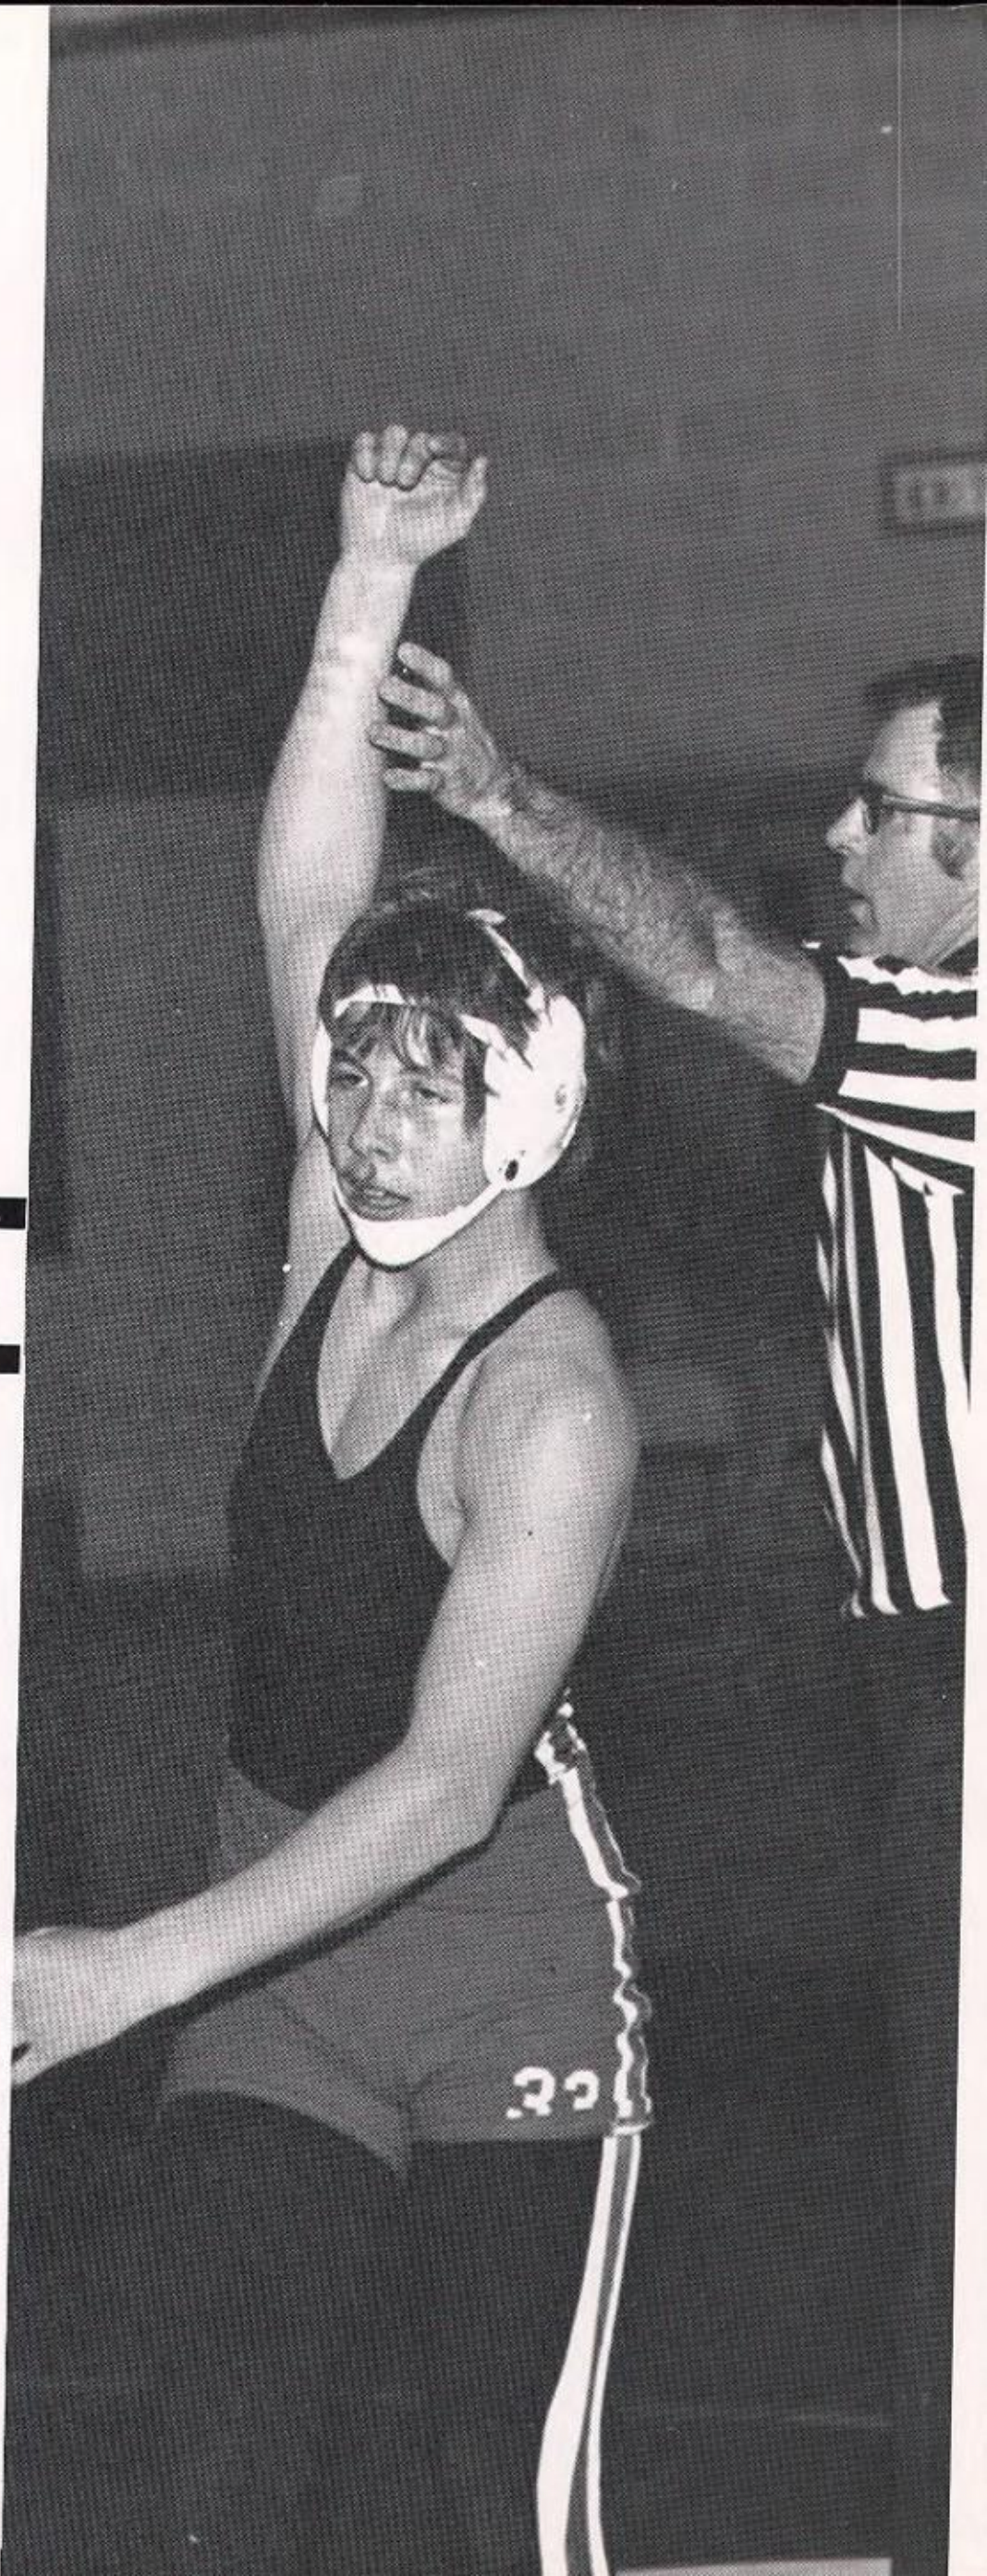

And In People...

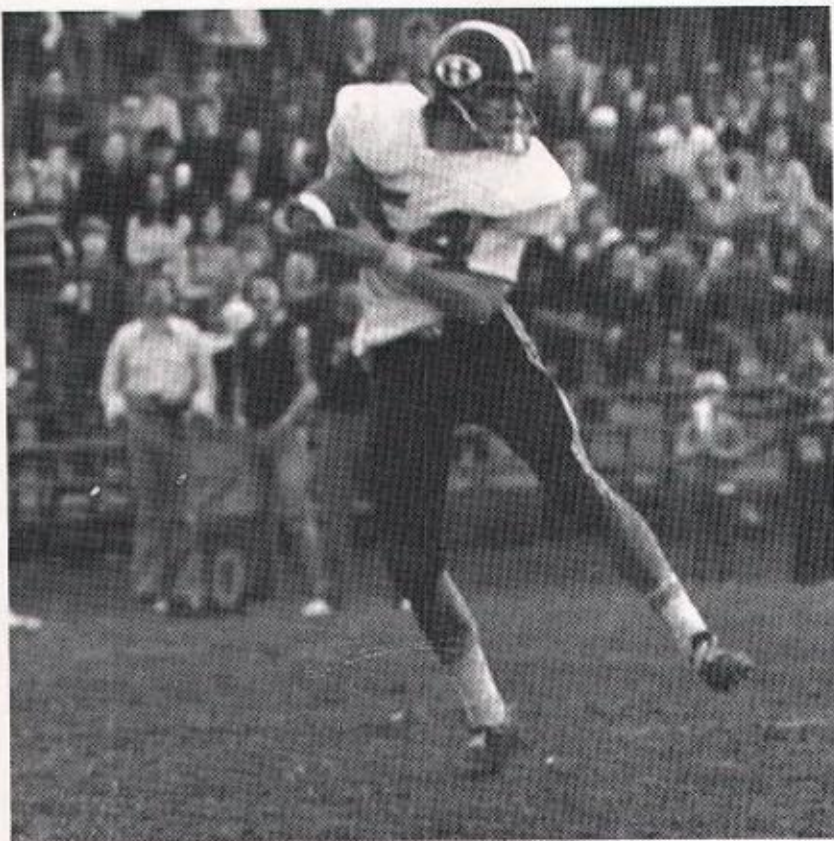

Brian Bakunas seems to enjoy working on his shop project.

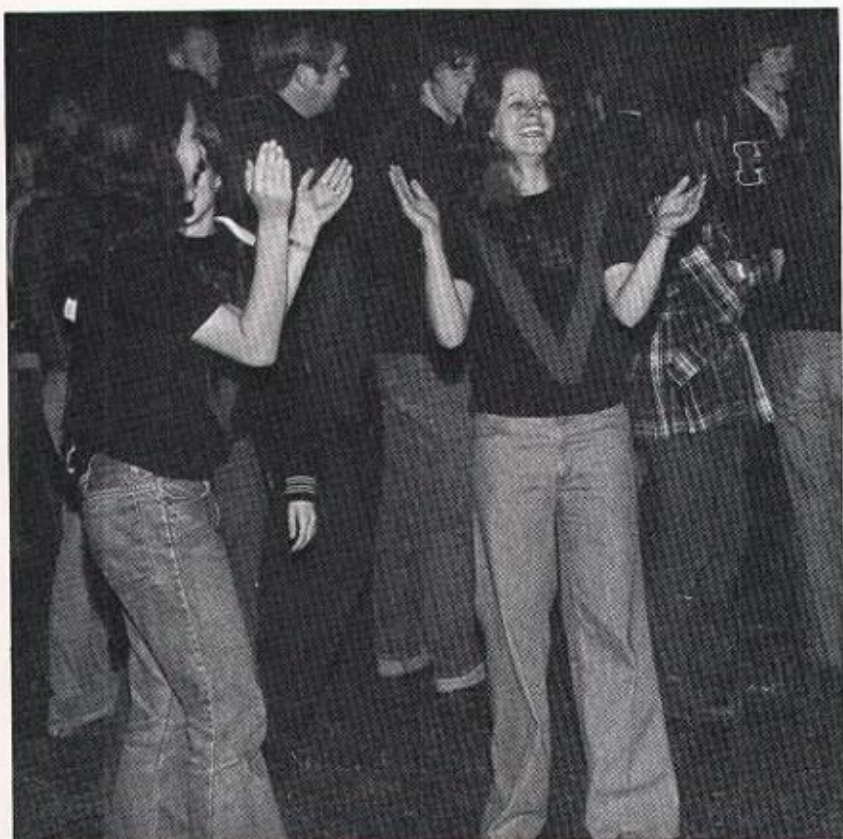

es Student Life Activities

Athletic competition adds variety to life at Hickory, not only for the players but also for the spectators and boosters. The excitement of the foul shot at tie score in the last few seconds, the third attempt at 6' 0", the fly ball going out farther and farther, and the fumble on the 10-yard line tries the hearts and stomachs of not only the achievers, but all who watch. Sports provide an outlet for cooped-up strength and emotion and instill a sense of pride.

Mercer County Co-Champs At Last!

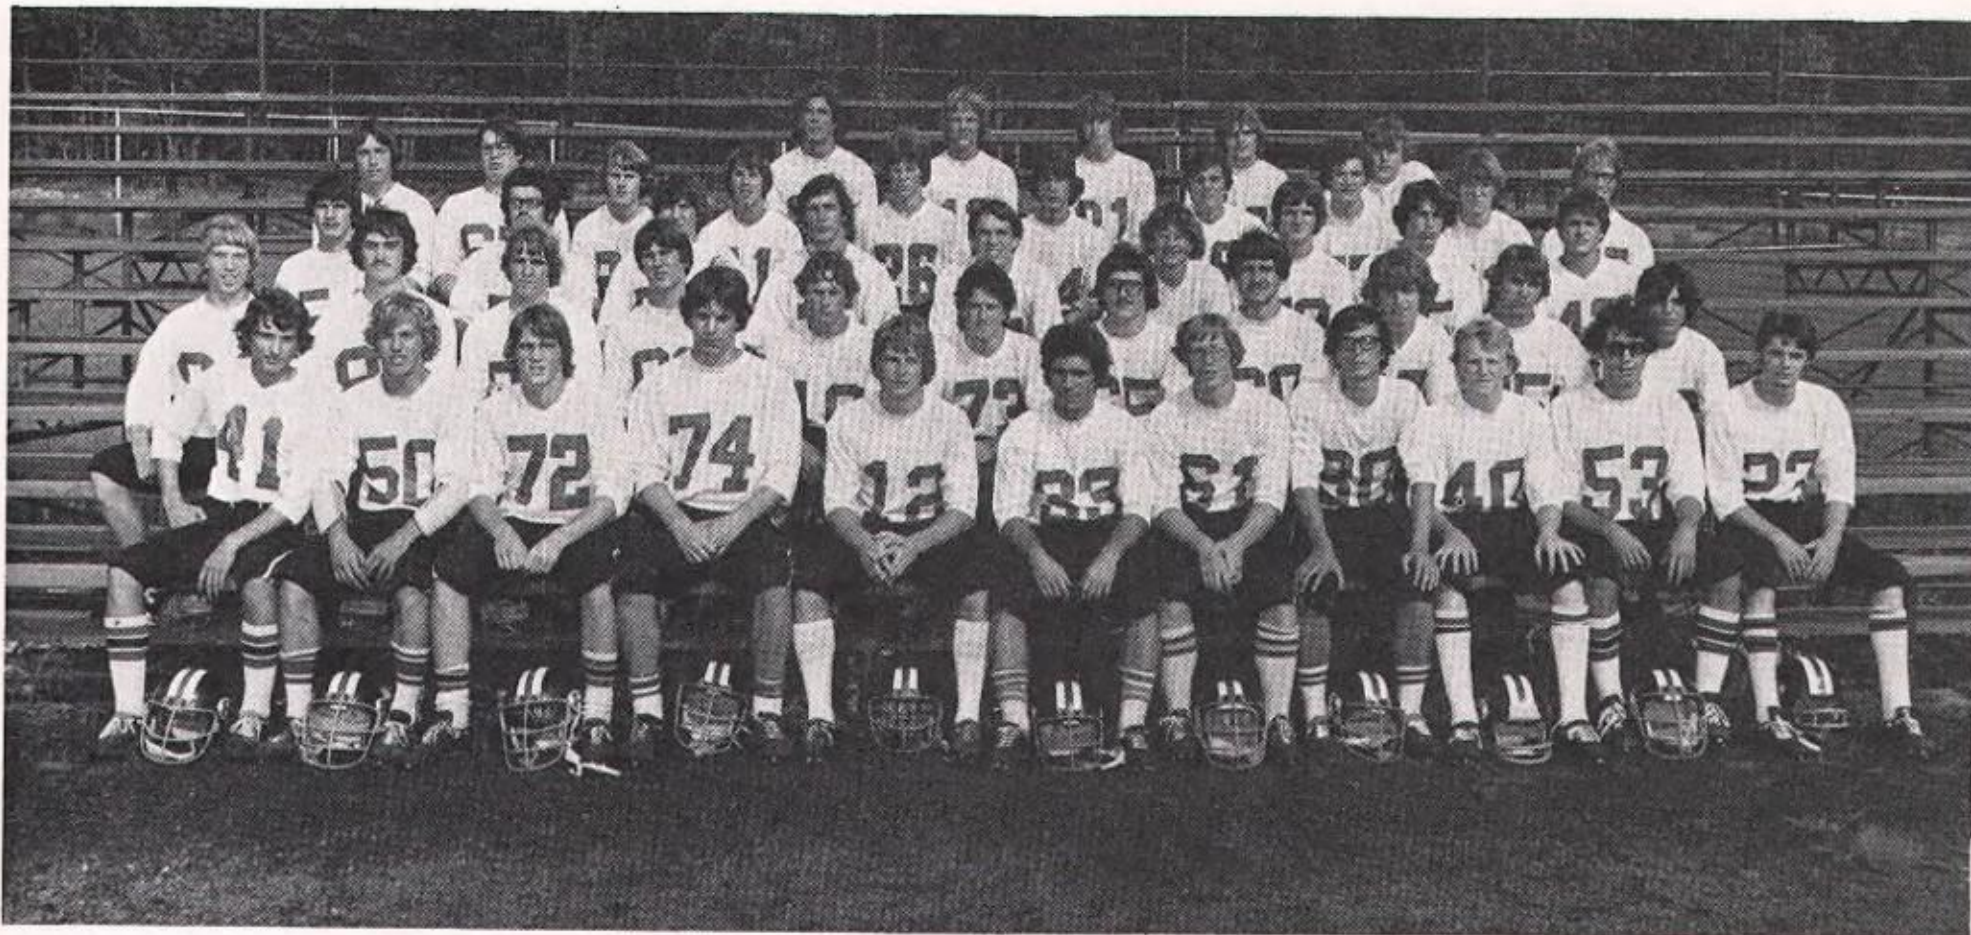

Hard work and determination on the part of the Hornet football team, under head coach Jim Bestwick, led to an exciting season for both players and fans.

The season opened with the Hornets meeting top-ranked Titusville, which ended up in a tie. The team then went on to win six of their next eight games. The end of the season came with an emotional loss to Kennedy Christian, but the year as a whole was a success, as Hickory tied for first place in Mercer County with Greenville. The heart-breaker turned out to be the opening tie, which, because of the complicated point system used, placed them in second place behind Greenville in the Northwest Conference.

The season record of 6-3-1 was made possible through the efforts of all the players. They were led by quarterback Bob Habel, and seniors Tim Osborne, Bill Crumbacher, Dick Becker, Todd Spears, Art Gough and George Koukis.

Pre-Season Readies Boys For League Play

For the basketball team, November 28 marked the opening of a tough pre-season exhibition series, which ended in a 1-5 record.

Not all of the victories came easily, though. Anyone who attended the decisive meeting against Titusville can tell of the excitement. It was particularly important, for it clinched the championship. When it was over, fans flooded the court, screaming "We're number one!" while team members sliced the nets from the hoops. The final two loops were saved for Coach Garay, and when the last cord was severed, a triumphant roar went up from the crowd. The team built up a 14-2 league record, and was on its way to the playoffs.

Matmen Trample Sharon In Opening Match

One of the main problems of the wrestlers is keeping down their weight. Some of the girls wish they could do it as fast! The meals skipped, the miles run, the six inches sweated out all account for those couple of pounds to get in the weight limit. Then after the match they reward themselves with a pizza, huge mounds of ice cream, or just one of the family's dinners. Though keeping down their weight is a big problem, winning for Coach Lewis is even worse.

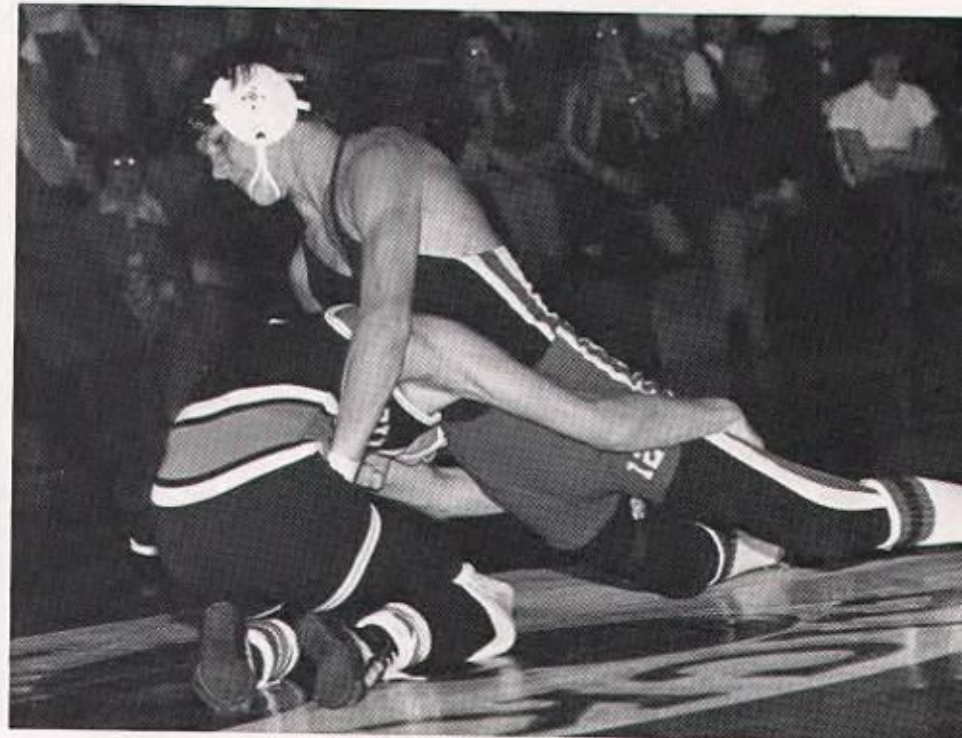

The team accumulated a 10-3 record. Outstanding were Mike Tota, Brad Tate, Chuck Goodwin, Jim Teglo, Joe Roth, and Glenn Maxwell, who had an undefeated season.

Girls Capture 2nd Place In County

"Harambee!" "Way to be!" "Moose!"

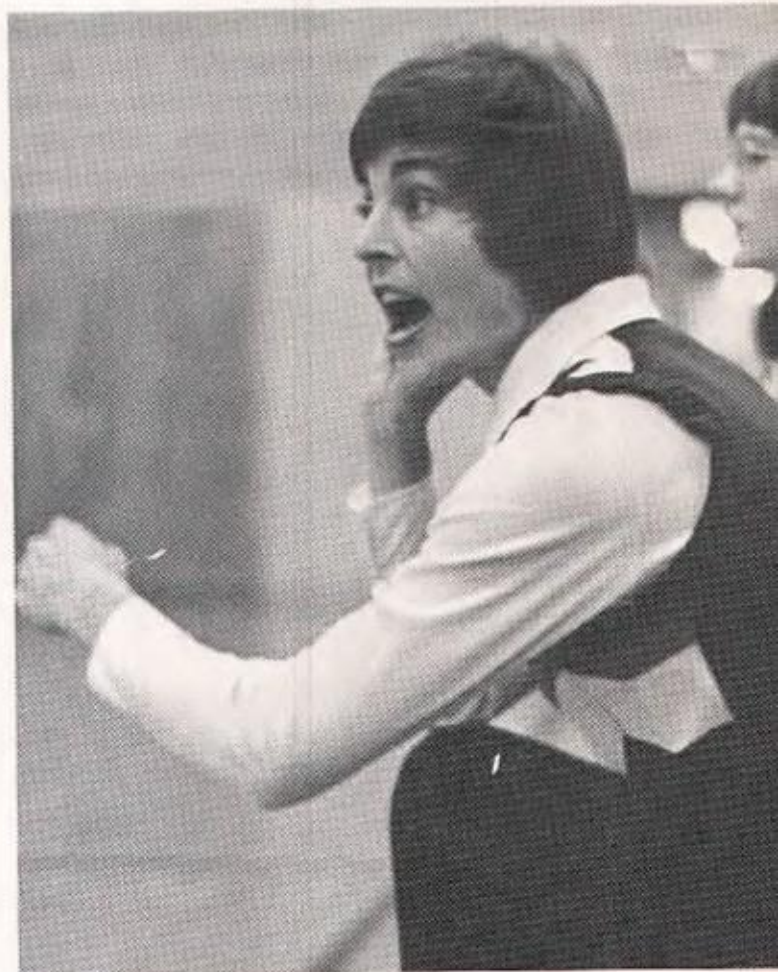

Who comes to mind when these words are heard? The girls' basketball team, of course. Under the coaching of Miss Sally Ward and Miss Sally McKown, the girls finished their season with a 14-2 record.

Grove City and Lakeview proved tough competition, and the girls found themselves in a three way tie for the Mercer County Championship. In the playoff games, Grove City barely defeated Lakeview. Hickory was also defeated, but still remained eligible to go to competition for state in March.

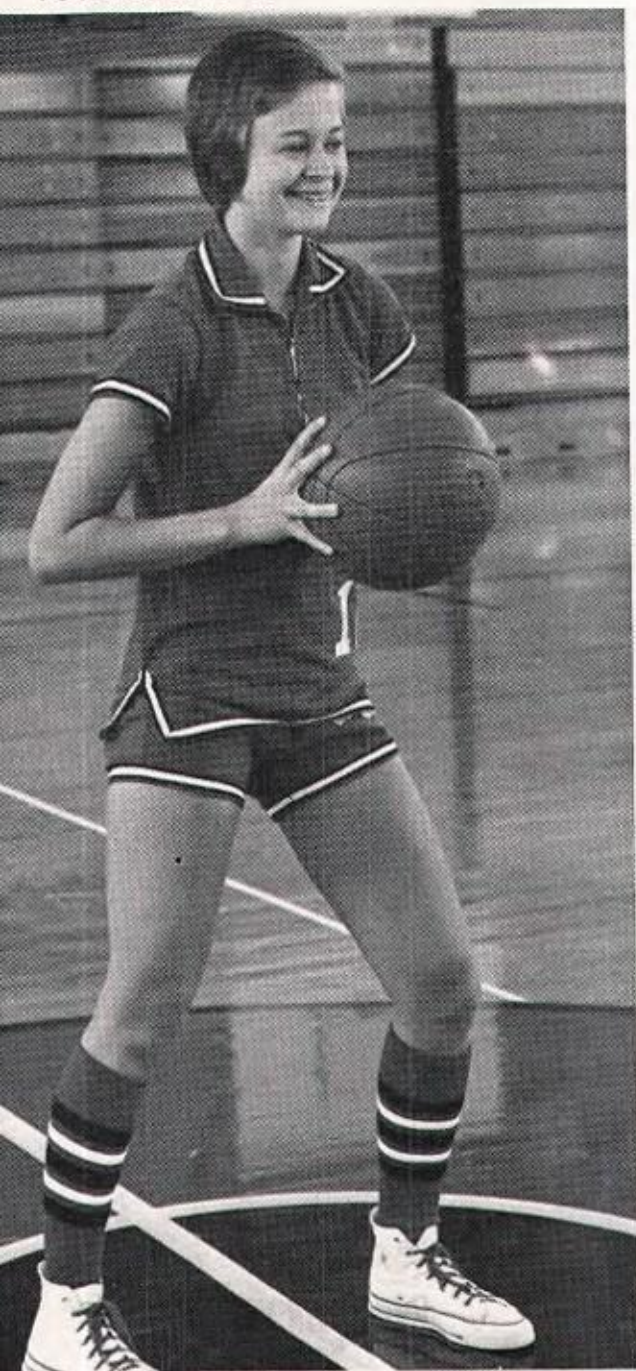

This year, for the first time, a junior varsity team was also formed. The J. V.'S compiled a record of 9-7.

Harriers Run Through Another Season

A good season, women's-lib, and the Sharon and Boardman invationals all came to the 1975 Cross Country team. At the Sharon invationals Hickory took seventh place out of 12, and at Boardman, they placed eighteenth out of 30. Freshman Sandy Graham was the first girl to be on the Cross Country team. Sandy took first at the county meet and third at district. The cross country team had its first junior-high squad this year. The teams successful season brought them to 10 wins, 5 losses, and 1 forfeit.

Gary Neil, '75, was undefeated in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Len Krichko, also '75, was undefeated in the mile with his best time 4.26, and 1.57.2 in the 880 yard run.

Hard work and determination got Bob Habel, Rick Kiefer, and Jim Herrmann to the state semifinals with fine performances. Harder determination and work sent Len Krichko to state where he placed seventh in the mile and sixth in the half mile.

Although it wasn't a great season for the team, they brought it to an end with a 3-4 record.

Girls' Track Finished With Outstanding Season

"O.K. girls, ten seconds;"
"Run, run, run!"

All the hours of practice paid off for the girls track team this year. Out of 14 meet events, 10 new school records were set. One meet was lost in regular season, that to Kennedy Christian.

At the District X meet in Oil City, 5 girls qualified for the state championships, Karen Krichko, '75, won first place in the high jump, and the 880-yard relay team, consisting of Anne Baker, Janet Zikmund, Sharon O'Hare, and Barb Hartsy finished in first place with a new District record of 1:48.8. Hickory ended up fourth in overall standings.

Harrisburg held another victory for Karen, who high-jumped 5'7½" and set a new state record.

Winning Season For Baseball Team:

The '75 baseball season came to an end after a loss to West Middlesex in the playoffs, with a 9-4 league record. Head Coach Steve Garay, in his final year, set as the team's major goal a winning season.

The team's biggest rivals were West Middlesex and Sharon. Although both teams beat Hickory once during regular play, the Hornets came up with key wins over each of them. The victory over West Middlesex was one of the best played games of the season.

Contributing their talents to the team were retiring lettermen Denny Driscoll, Bob Mudrinich, Mark Sok, Tim DeLeon, Mark Morrison, and Mark Mansell. Also coaching were George Dzurisko, who took over as head coach, and Thomas O'Brien.

The golf team began a new type of competition in the 1975 season. In the fall tryouts were held and, having practiced for a few weeks, district play began. Then after a winter layoff, golf resumed with a season of league matches in the spring.

The team, under Coach Barry Wooten, ended a challenging season with a 5-7 record, coming up against steady teams such as Greenville. Wins were collected from Mercer; Sharpville, and twice from West Middlesex.

Leading the golfers was Gary Johnson, '75, who in his final Hornet season had an 8-4 record. He was assisted by Mike Mentrek, '75, Tom Bell and Vern Worona, '76, and Jim Johnson, Jan Mudrinich, Dave Wolfe, and Brian Greenburg, '77.

[illegible]

Mixed emotions come to seniors as they approach graduation. They have finally reached the end of twelve long years of school, and will be starting a new period in their lives now. Some will go on to college to further their education, some will get full-time jobs, and others may get married and settle down. But most will not see friends and classmates again or be able to share in many activities and experience high school offers. No matter what the future holds, for almost all seniors this final year is the most important.

The Senior Year Is Here:

What does it mean to be a senior?

It means: being able to do things you could never do before.

...having first choice in everything when you usually waited.

...being in charge of important things around the school.

...doing goofy things because there's no one higher up to cut you down.

...going through 12 years of struggle to reach the top.

...being the one looked up to instead of the ones looking up.

...anticipating that last day when you are set free.

...achieving what you set out to achieve, whether in academics, art, or athletics.

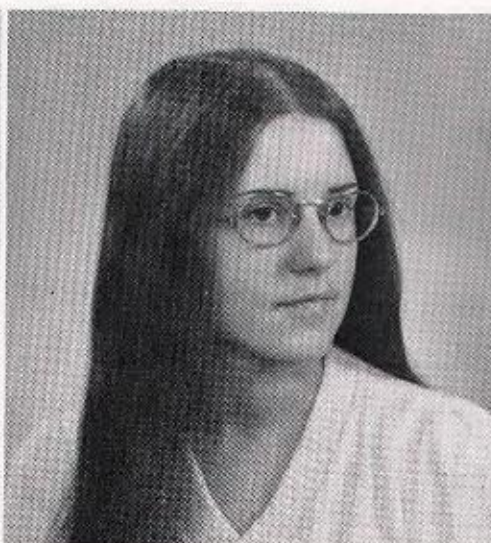

...fulfilling your year, in any way you want, because it is your last one.

It's too bad this school year is almost over. I never thought that I'd come to school because I liked my courses. But this year is different. Being a senior is an honor, and a well-deserved one. I got my first choice classes instead of the leftovers. All the attention was focused on me, to make sure I was ready for the outside world.

I grabbed every opportunity I could to get a piece of the action. I wanted to be involved in all the clubs and activities I possibly had time for, making sure I left time for studying, and plenty of time for laughter and fun with my good friends.

I'll remember these past four years for a long time, for they have molded me into the kind of person I will be for the rest of my life. If I missed anything, or wish I had a second try, it's too late to go back now, for I shall never pass this way again.

For each student, this school year was unique. Students got a 4-day sample of the school year, then continued their "summer vacation" because of the teachers' strike. Lunchtime policy changed with everyone waiting for 12:40—they had 5 minutes for socializing. Everyone had to get used to living in Hermitage instead of Hickory Township. People prepared for the Bicentennial displays, and decorations were put up around our school, as well as in our nation. Variety was evident in all student's lives. It is necessary for all things that wish to grow and expand—and it is the only way Student Life will survive.

Sports Seniors Student Life Activities Individuals

A Student's Life Is...

...challenging for those who come to learn.

...fun for the ones that can mix it with learning.

...exciting for the sports fans that come to watch every game.

...boring for the ones that wish they weren't here.

A Student's Life Is...

...hopeful for the people reaching for a higher goal, whether it be in athletics or academics.

...accomplished for the ones getting that A they've worked for.

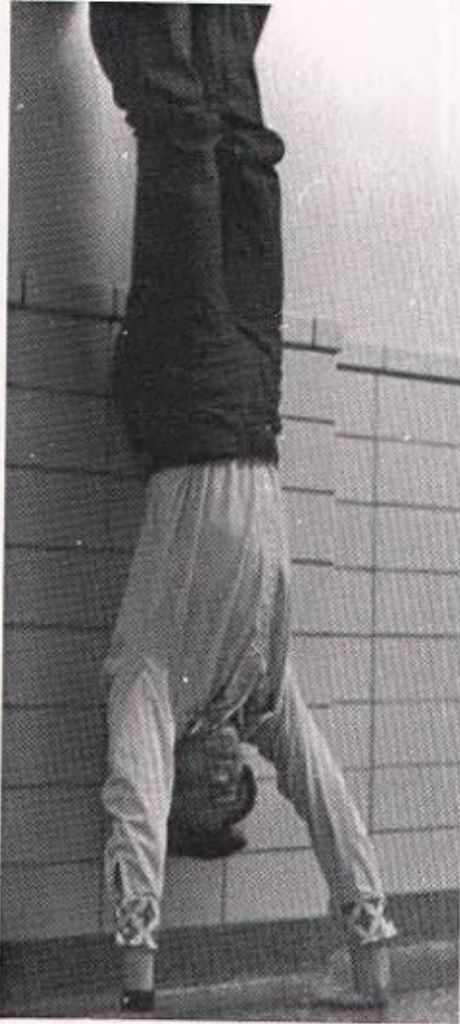

...tiring for the sleepers who find a desk as comfortable as any other place to settle down in.

...amusing as they watch the class clowns who believe in having fun too.

A Student's Life is as unique as each individual, as it always will have to be.

It's only natural to see Marla Prizant this way!

When you have to sit 45 minutes at a time not saying a word eight times a day, there comes a time when you have to unwind. You see it everywhere! As you are wandering down the halls going to your next class you are amazed when you hear a loud football player yell, "Skins!" Of course he neglected to see that Mr. Moore was standing 5 feet away. Later you see someone at lunchtime finding a new way to eat ice cream sandwiches. What better place is there to let go than in a studyhall? Here you find students in their most comfortable form. Someone is sleeping; others might be trying to get away with playing gin rummy; and of course (there's always someone in the crowd) some have to do homework! But if that's their way of letting go, why not?

Summer ends I Guess They're Ready For Me!

"I wish we didn't have triple sessions today!" "One more time and I'll get that crescendo straight!" "Sure, I'd love to see Jaws tonight!" Do you believe that's all I've heard this past week from my friends? But as they say "all good things must come to an end." Everyone is getting summer finally over with and school underway. It doesn't seem like the time has come yet for hitting the books. Practices back on schedule, homerooms posted—I guess they're ready for me.

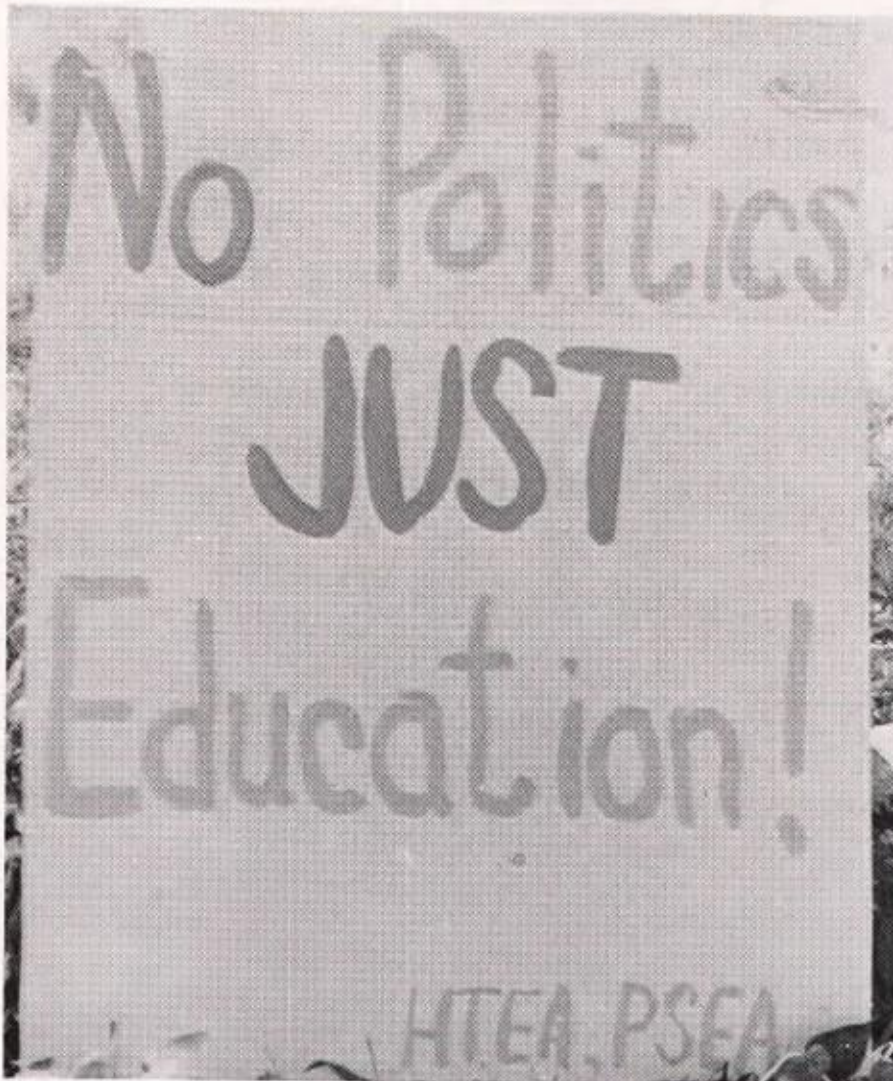

Two first days of school? Teacher's Strike Halts Education

I'll never forget the day when we all heard there would be a strike after all. All you could hear was "Yea, no school tomorrow!" After finally beginning to get into the swing of things, being in school for four days, on September 9, the teachers decided to go on strike. All the students were happy at first. That is, until the consequences began to arise. As the strike dragged on scholarships were less available, seniors needed guidance in selecting colleges, as well as the education that was missed. By the time October 9 came, the agreement was made and we returned to school after 21 days. Most students were glad to come back. When we again came to school, everything was changed because of the disturbed feelings of both students and teachers.

Students led by senior class president Lew Voisey, left, demonstrated to hurry the decision on the strike.

Tired feet and dirty looks didn't stop these teachers from smiling.

If the radiator knocks again, should we answer?
Should the pencil sharpener be allowed to eat in class?
We brought down History, Health, and Science
With a single shot, and put the trophies in the foyer.
We imagined the sound of one eraser clapping
And dissected communal problems.

And read the handwriting on the wall.
And, at the end, when it was over,
Physical Ed did handsprings down the hall
And Josten's ran rings around the bells.

Vo-Tech Offers Many Courses To Students

Tammy Forsberg gains experience as a medical assistant.

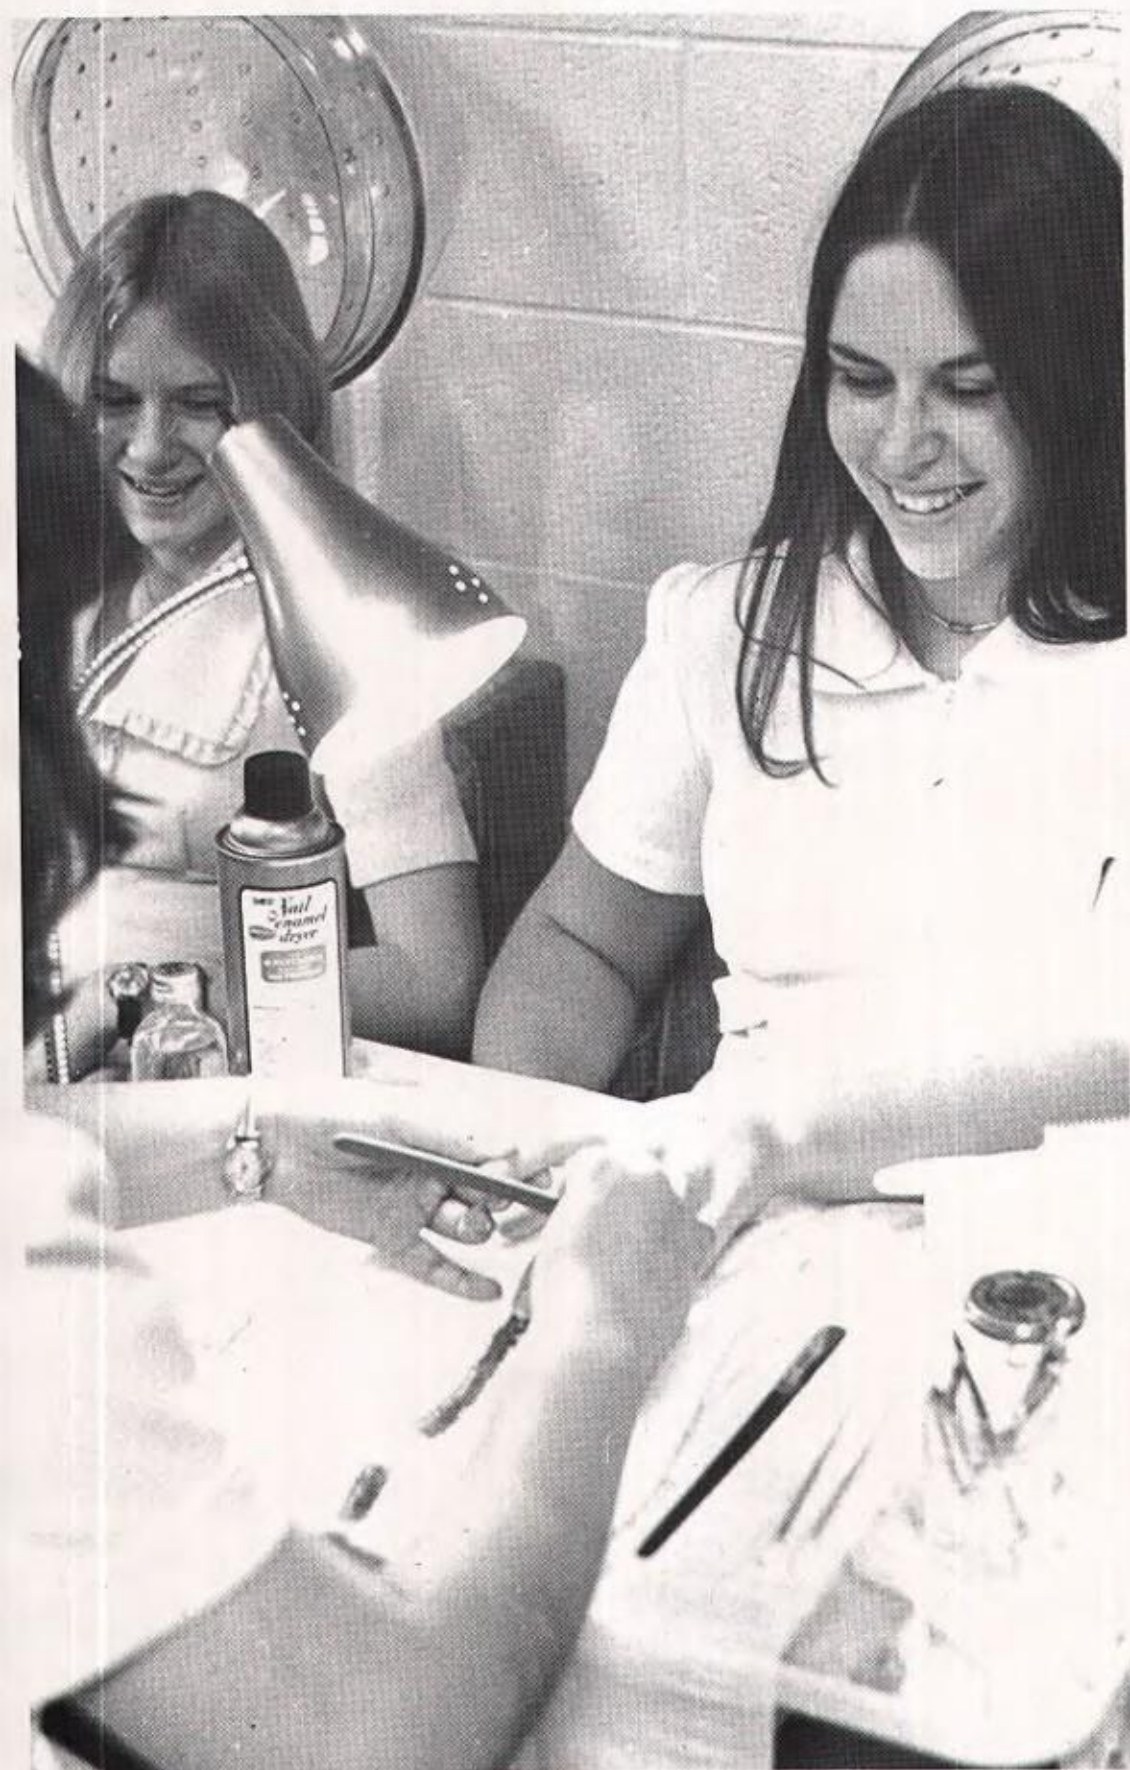

Complicated wiring and machinery become familiar during training.

Students have the chance to work together.

One can tell every fourth period who's in vo-tech or not - we are the only ones in the room with our coats and lunches with us. The minutes slowly roll by until 11:27 comes and we all head to the buses. It seems like all we do is sit on a bus. First we go to the high school in the morning. Then at lunch we have a 20 minute ride to Mercer. We come back at the end of the day only to board our buses back home. But it's all worth it because the vo-tech school has so many courses available for training in specialized fields. For example, medical assisting, food servicing, and warehousing are some of the courses offered. We also have a chance to meet more people from different high schools. Most of all, it offers more of a variety of courses to students so one can be ready for the world after graduation.

Doris Hunia offers her hands for practice.

Mark Wagner keeps things in order in the filing room.

Technical skills open doors for the future.

There's Nothing Like A Football Game!

Oh it's so cold out here! My mother told me to bring a blanket! We're all so cold the cheerleaders may as well hang it up trying to get our hands out of our pockets to clap and cheer.

What? What happened? Why is everyone standing up all of a sudden? Oh! We scored a touchdown! Yea! Everyone is jumping around so much! I should know better than to trust these bleachers enough to jump on them. One false move on my feet and I might fall through! There's the kick. Will it make it? It does!

It's halftime now. Should I fight the crowd and try to get something to eat at the concession stand or stay and watch the band? I think I'll stay; I like seeing the band. It's hard to believe they are the same people who push and shove at class changes through the halls. They're actually organized!

Heh it's almost the end of the game already. 5-4-3-2-1-Yea! We won! Despite the cold, it was a pretty good way to spend a Saturday afternoon.

The crowd looks intently on the play down the field.

John Wilson ponders, how much longer do I have to sit here?

Happy Birthday, U.S.A! Fire Hydrants Smile With Painted Faces; Community Celebrates With Name Change

Bicentennial reminders are everywhere- even on Paula Richard's teashirt!

I think the word "Bicentennial" has been used more than any other in the entire English language this year! Everyone is so sick of it! But, nevertheless, it is our nation's 200th birthday and it does deserve a big celebration. To recognize this, the community has taken a step forward. Effective Jan. 1, 1976, Hickory changed its name to Hermitage. In school, the history department planned to paint murals in the history hall and to present audio-visual shows. Art classes participated in the seal and flag contest. But, grin and bear it folks, and wait till July 4th!

Exchange Program Sends Luiz

Luiz finds Hickory students to be friendly.

Moving to a new town and attending a different school is frightening to most students, but imagine coming to a new school in another country! From Juiz de Fora, Brazil, Luiz Augusto N. Assad came to Hickory to spend three or four months. Luiz found several changes in his new school life. In Brazil, he had to walk to school, wear a uniform, and go to school from 7:30 to 11:30, while at Hickory he rides a school bus and is able to choose his own classes. Luiz said, "I'm very glad to be here and I hope to be a good exchange student."

Study hall provides time to make new friends.

Looking Back!

Well, there we were yesterday in Mr. Walcott's "Feature Writing" class when he layed that homework assignment for tomorrow on us. "I want you to write on what makes Hickory different from other schools, and what makes this year different from other years."

Sure, Mr. Walcott. Do you know what you can do with that homework assignment? This is going to be hard. All high school years are the same, aren't they? Well, maybe not. There's got to be something different. Let's see. We wear jeans a lot; some people I haven't seen in anything else but jeans. Oh yea! How could I forget the strike? That altered our whole school calendar. Missing 21 days upset a lot of things. There was the football, girls' basketball, and cross country seasons that got messed up. That's not mentioning the yearbook staff's deadline, the choir's Christmas concert, college applications, scholarships, and the whole attitude of the student body. The kids resented the teachers and the school board for holding out so long on the decision, and it took a long time to get it back in gear. The cheerleaders and the marching band worked so hard to achieve better spirit only for it to be dampered by the strike. Still, though, there is an improvement in it.

I don't know what else to say. Students still act like they wished they weren't here. There is still vandalism in the school, such as burning garbage cans, breaking windows, and other such things.

Now I think I have enough to write an article on. I'd get an A if there wasn't that one thing that keeps me down in the C area. Mr. Walcott thinks that people do well and not good, and that he tries to teach us and not learn us. Oh well, what do English teachers know?

Club activities, decorating for dances, and the dances themselves are important experiences in the lives of Hickory students. Some of the most meaningful events though, during the school year are the activities that catch the students by surprise.

Strike picketting, a late Homecoming, and Godspell affected the student body in an unusual way. These moments singing Day by Day, when a tear came to the eye, a piercing scream when we lost Homecoming game or the relief that school finally started after 21 days of striking will all become part of the memories we cherish.

Capacity Crowd Watches Kathy Begin Her Reign

Excitement mounted as Student Council counted hundreds of ballots with votes for a homecoming queen and senior attendant. The 20 girls nominated from the junior and senior classes anxiously waited to hear the winners. At lunchtime, it was announced that the 1975 Homecoming Queen was Kathy McGonigle, and the senior attendant was Tammy Forsberg.

Finally November 8 arrived. During halftime of the game, Kathy, Tammy, and Connie Burkhardt, 1974 queen, were introduced. The Hornets fought a hard battle against Kennedy Christian, but lost the game 26-22.

That night, John Vasconi escorted a radiant queen down the aisle. Tammy was escorted by Mark Mazanek, and Connie was escorted by Jack Ivan. Couples boogied to Dennis O'Belle from 8-11 p.m.

All Senior Court Reigns Over Sweetheart Ball

Just as Valentine's Day is special in many people's hearts, so is the Sweetheart Ball. Sponsored by Senior Tri-Hi-Y, the dance was held on February 14. Hearts and Valentines decorated the gym and Blue Ash entertained the couples. Tami Antus presided over the court, which included Lori Eckles, Tammy Bonasara, Cynthia Kachulis, and Karen McGonigle. Contrary to past years, the queen was announced at the dance and the court consisted of all seniors. By the end of the evening cupid had stuck the hearts of everyone.

Bicentennial Trip To Washington D.C

Several changes occurred in Marching Band this season. Mr. Ronald Marenchin became the new director of the band, working hard to get the musicians in shape. Members were kept busy learning new songs and routines. They began their season with a two week band camp, and continued practice during the teachers' strike. A color guard, consisting of four girls was also added this year. On several occasions, the band entertained football fans with a tribute to the Bicentennial. They also participated in the United Fund parade, Slippery Rock's Homecoming parade, and Memorial and Veterans' Days parades.

Pep Band Adds Enthusiasm To Basketball

Pep Band livened up the basketball games this year, contributing its talents before games and during time-outs. It was made up of musicians in every grade and led by Mr. Ronald Marenchin. From the fight song to "In Heaven There Is No Beer," the music urged the fans to join in, which they did heartily. The band played the national anthem instead of using a record.

A little team work never hurt.

"Godspell," the rock musical, was performed by the students of Slippery Rock State College, for the performance classes of Hickory. The contemporary production involved crazy costumes, gimmicks, and a rock band that aided in relating the life and teachings of Jesus, according to the Gospel of Matthew. The enthusiasm of the audience was displayed when everyone jumped to their feet singing "Day by Day." One asked, "Why Godspell"? The reply was, "Why not!"

There's nothing like working on the Nut staff to drive a person nuts! The pictures scheduled with Rembrandts', the layouts drawn for all 184 pages, the pictures cropped wrong, and the copy blocks that seemingly never pleased Mr. Walcott all were a part of meeting each deadline. People never realized how much work there was unless they were on the staff. Nevertheless, each deadline was met even if it meant the editors staying up until three in the morning! With many screams of frustration from Shelly and Celeste, the book came out with a sense of pride and accomplishment on every page.

"All right, is your story finished yet?" complains Cathy King, editor. Despite production problems at the beginning of the year, the school newspaper finally started to meet its deadlines. German Club could be summed up in one word-verriickt! Its members always had something wild planned-whether it was the Octoberfest or Christmas banquet. The Christmas banquet was held at the Shenango Inn, and last year's seniors were invited to attend. The club, under Mrs. Sherry Leyde's supervision, also discussed plans for a field trip.

After many long months of planning, raising money, painting murals, and making thousands of tissue paper flowers, "Pieces of April" became a reality. With juniors decorating during the day and after school, it took about a week for everything to be put into place.

Junior class officers Mark Mazanek, Diane Meyer, Patty Prochenets, and Connie Burkhart encountered some difficulties in raising money, though. In addition to ice cream, the junior class sold magazines to boost funds. Co-advisors for the class were Miss Carol Newton and Mr. August Schiava.

'Pieces Of April' Provides Many Memories

Girls looked through seemingly endless racks of long dresses to find that special one. Guys rented tuxedos and bought after prom tickets. Then finally May 2, 1975, arrived! At 8 p.m., Jim Grober, senior class president, and his date Joan Godfrey led the Grand March into the magical world of "Pieces of April." The Dave Killa Orchestra performed until midnight, playing fast and slow dances and even a few polkas. Sweet Breeze entertained about 300 people during the after prom.

When the evening was over, there were many memories—smartly attired couples with fragrant corsages and boutonnieres, tired feet, the limbo, and even a "Laurel and Hardy" movie.

Living With Variety

Mrs. Andree offers Tamie Millison lessons on buttonholing.

What has Sue Gough found in the library cards?

"I'm sorry Mark, but the 1812 Overture won't hit it off with the kids at lunchtime" says Diane Meyer.

Cars and buses aren't the only way people get to school!

It only took three weeks to perfect that back handspring! Maybe someday I'll be another Olga Korbit. If it wasn't for the gymnastics team I would never have striven for that perfection. There's a variety of interests at Hickory which are challenged everyday—art, music, language clubs, the Nut, the Leaf, sports, even skiing. Those involved in any sport, club, or class have the opportunity to develop their talents. Isn't that why school is a learning experience?

In Interests to develop our talents,

Joe Baker has trouble keeping ingredients in the pan.

Elaine Dove takes advantage of the empty auditorium to practice Beethoven.

Tony Kropp checks to see if his lunch is missing.

Mark Madura puts a lot of concentration into his work.

Mr. Kite shows Sharyl Lee her grades for this semester.

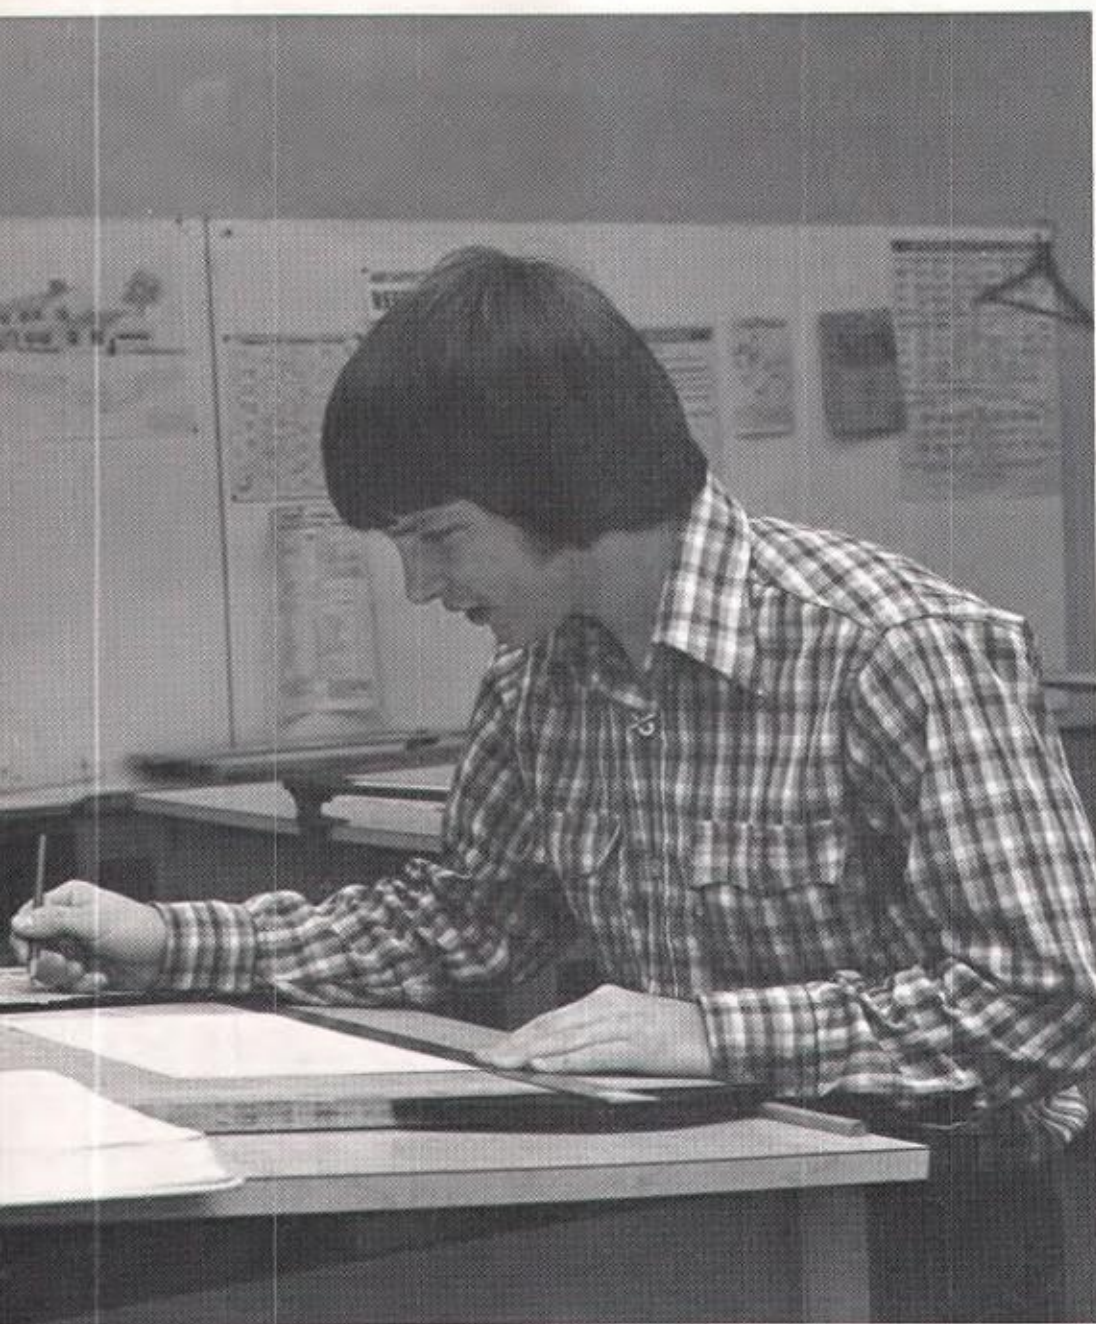

Who would like to play the part of Romeo today? How about Juliet?

In Education

"Kenny, don't take my picture. I'm taking this test."

Ron Collins puts every detail into his drawings.

to improve our minds,

When the heaters don't work these chemistry students know how to keep warm.

Study! Study! Study! To some, that's what getting an education means. But to others, an education may be obtained through the willingness to listen to others with an open mind. To have an open mind means to learn from any experience we may have, and accept the opinions of anyone who feels they have something to teach us.

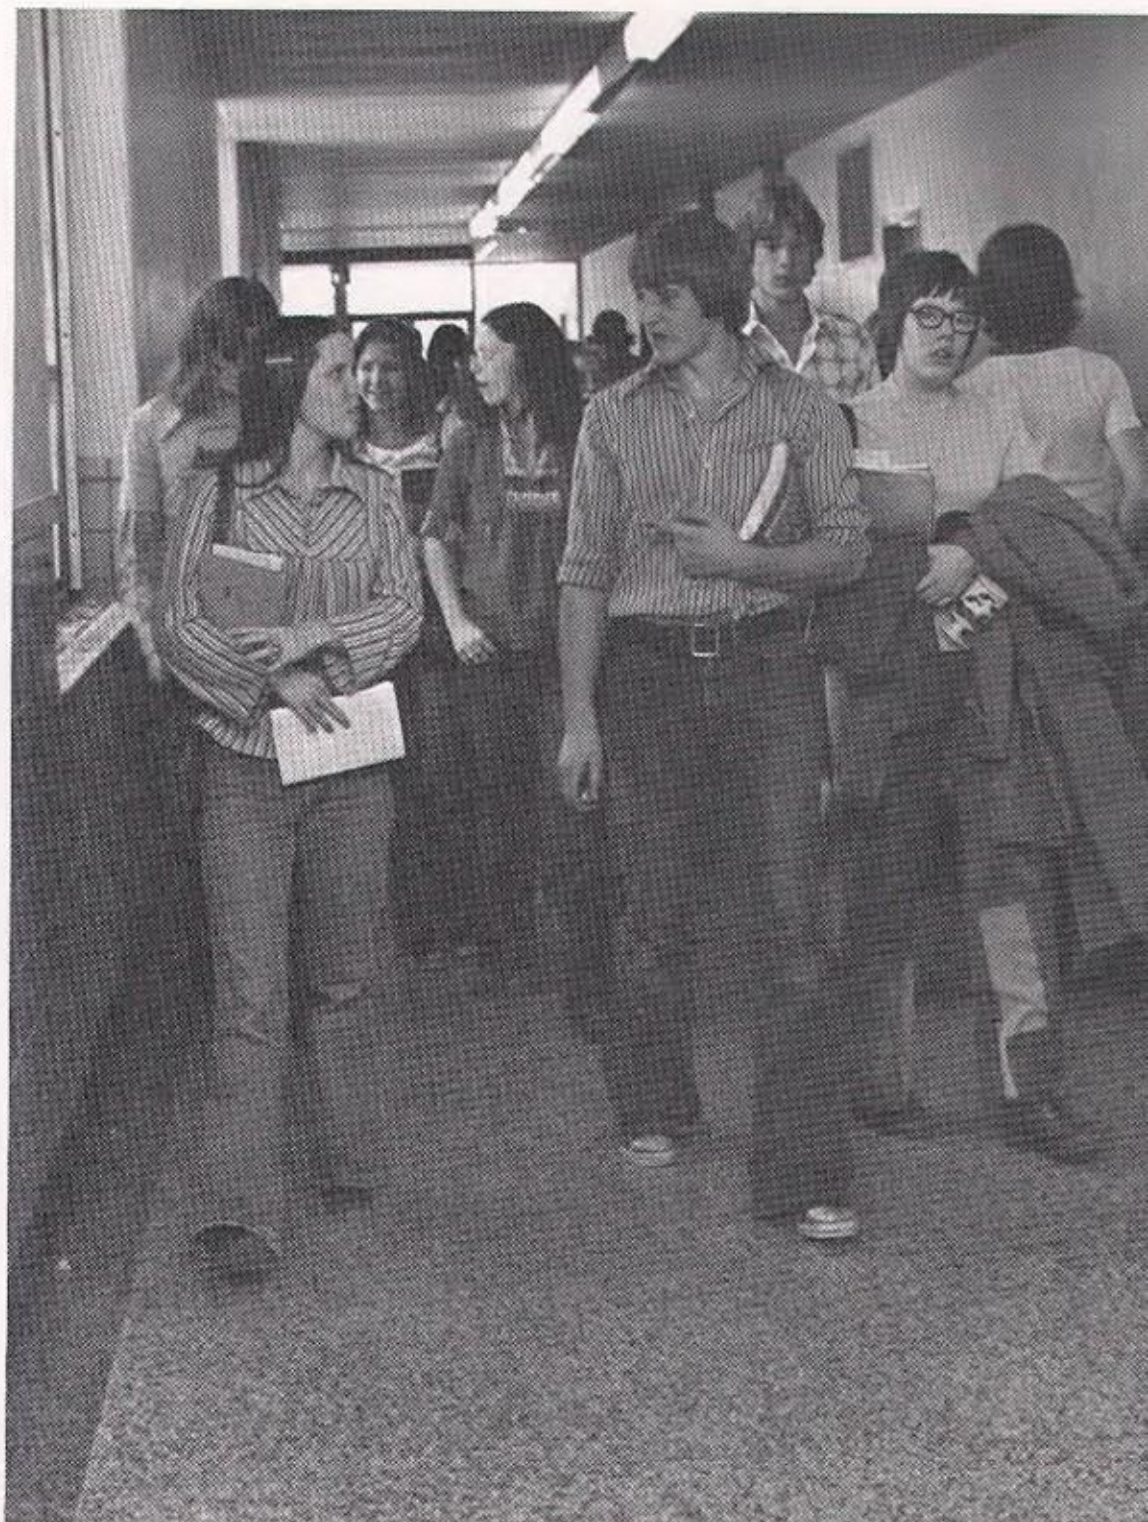

There are many ways of getting an education if we are open to listening and learning. So studying, studying, and studying again turns into listening, learning, and accepting.

"Now let's see who's all in my class."

Learning to knit may puzzle Terry Locke at times.

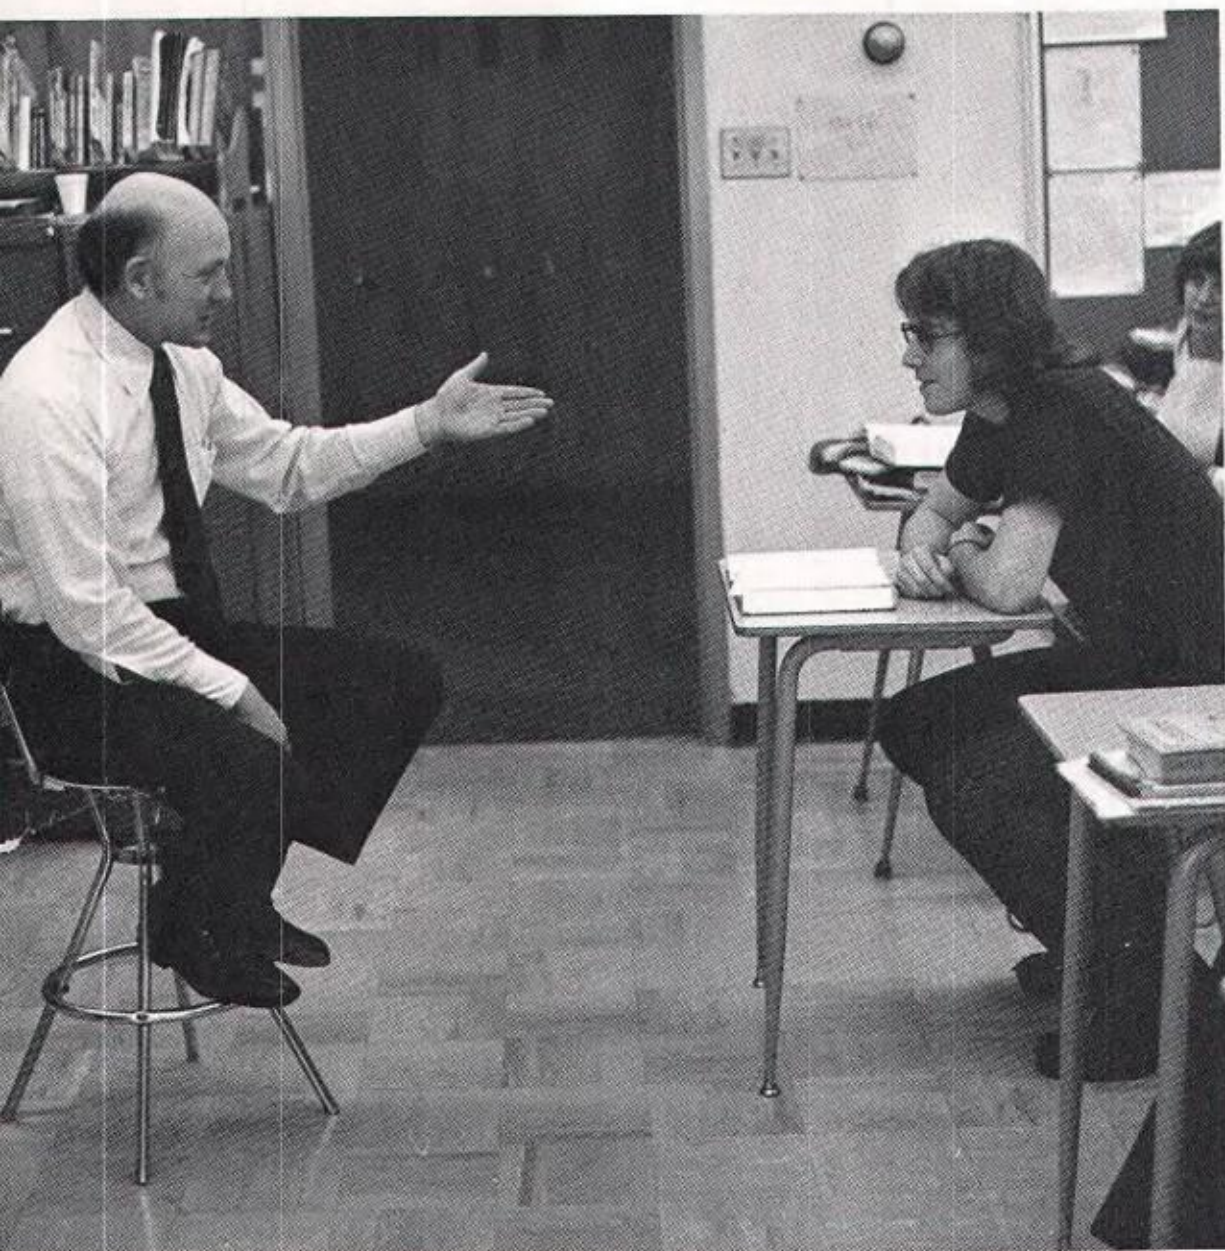

Class change can be a time of revenge for Patty Crago and Greg Ceremuga.

"I mean, . . . it's like this . . . well?" Sometimes collecting ones own opinions can be hard enough but trying to accept others opinions can be even harder. It takes a lot of understanding, patience and the ability to listen to what another person has to say. At Hickory we are privileged to be educated in a system that is not afraid to really listen or speak out, if necessary for the rights of the individual. Living with Variety is the only way one can secure these rights!

Mr. Lazorishak finds Brian Bewley's opinions argumentative.

Whether you like your picture is the big question.

to accept differing opinions.

Natalie Djakovich, how's your love life?

Karen Vasko
August 23, 1975
Karen was 16 years old. She was a member of the Marching Band, Concert Band and Sophomore Chorus.

In Memorial

No man is an Island entire of it self; every man is a piece of the Continent, and man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind; and therefore never send for whom the bell tolls; It tolls for thee.

Mr. Harold Falkner
August 5, 1975
Mr. Falkner was 60 years old. He retired last year after 22 years of service.

Linda
So a really sweet girl I'll known for a while. Remember our 10th grade homeroom and our talks Good luck in your future years.
R.M.A.
Chris

Linda,
you got a great
personality, always kept it.
Always remember our Senior year and 4TH period law class.
Good luck in all you do
Frank "16"

Linda,
I'm glad I got to know you
better this year.
Hope we can ride
this summer.
Ron.

LINDA,
WELL LINDA, THIS IS IT,
THIS OUR LAST YEAR. DO YOU
BELIEVE IT. I DON'T. YOU KNOW
YOU GOT TO BE ONE OF THE BEST LOOKING GIRLS IN THE SCHOOL, ALSO WITH ONE OF THE GREATEST PERSONALITIES. SO
KEEP IT AND I KNOW THAT
YOU WILL MAKE IT. I HOPE YOU KEEP IN TOUCH OVER THE SUMMER. GOOD LUCK IN THE FUTURE AND WITH GREG NEVER FORGET ALL THE GREAT-
TIMES. LOVE ALWAYS "16"
